A Fortune Teller is a person who tells you what they think will happen to you in the future.

There has never been any _____ (science) proof that fortune telling is real. It is known that fortune telling consists of three things, only:

- Cold reading
- The client is the information provider
- An accomplice having time to prepare speech

as	and	about	until
that	a	or	in

A fortune teller cold reads 1. _____ person by throwing out _____ (number) claims 2. _____ they see, sense or are told that one is correct, or some of them are so. They then make _____ (vary) pronouncements about their correct guesses and the client takes those 3. _____ their fortune seen by the fortune teller.

The client tells the fortune teller what it is they are seeking information 4. _____ and the fortune teller crafts a _____ (believe), to the client, series of pronouncements to make the client believe 5. _____ their fortune is being read.

The fortune teller, or an accomplice, has sufficient time 6. _____ advance of the "reading" to obtain either basic or detailed information about the client. The fortune teller then _____ (surprise) the client by revealing that they "know" this information 7. _____ convinces the client of the teller's bona fides. They then undertake either a cold read 8. _____ the client tells them what they are seeking to learn and the fortune teller goes from there.
